About me

I just finished my master's at FEUP with a final grade of 17 out of 20. I specialised in Automation with a major in Industrial Management. During my time in university the classes I enjoyed the most were programming, energy production and all involving electronics, course in which I was assistant professor the past semester.

My dream is to be able to have a fulfilling professional life, keeping my adventurous side, always trying to leave a good mark in the world.

I love learning about the world and the way it works. Being a history geek, I find it invaluable to learn from our past mistakes so we can guarantee a better tomorrow.

I am enthusiastic about team sports, having played 6 years of youth handball and captaining my team for several of those years. I currently hike and surf, two sports that allow me to be in close contact with nature. I'm also passionate about volunteering, currently working with the Erasmus Student Network Porto, where I have lead teams of up to 15 people and have to coordinate with local, national and international leadership.
